Part One: Reading Comprehension (10 marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Fish and many other kinds of life, like coral, are disappearing from the oceans fast. There are sad changes everywhere. They are caused by pollution and over-fishing. Fishing boats with huge nets catch and kill everything. We risk a terrible man-made disaster – the death of the oceans. Two centuries ago, whales were being caught for their oil and meat. By the 1940s, the job was being made easier by modern technology. From the 1950s to the 1980s, they were being caught everywhere and numbers were collapsing. Whole species of whales were destroyed. Finally, the world took action. In 1985, almost every country agreed to stop catching whales so whale populations are slowly rising again. Sadly, the same thing can't happen with fish and fishing. In Europe, people are required to catch smaller quantities now, but almost everywhere else they go on fishing freely. They can't stop fishing: too many hungry people need to eat. Perhaps the only way to save the oceans is the one that our ancestors discovered long ago: farming. There are already many fish farms, and perhaps there will soon be many more along the world's coasts. People say the fish do not taste as good as wild fish. However, that is still much better than losing all the fish in the world.

Writing

(5 marks)

Write in one of the following topics :

- 1- We need to think about the past, the present, and the future.
- 2- Write for or against a new project in your area .

We need to think about the past, the present, and the future. The past is important because ~~it~~ it has got us ^{to} where we are now. The present is important too because it's the time in which we live ~~and~~ and ~~we~~ make ^{decisions} ~~also~~ We need to plan for the future and work towards our goals. We should ~~want to~~ know what we need for ourselves, our family, and friends. I believe the present is the most important time because it's the time ^{in which} we take action. The past is gone, and the future hasn't ^{arrived} yet. So we need to live our lives as if tomorrow ^{will} always come and prepare for it. ♥
