Young nurse Helen West, 19, had a lucky escape last night when her tenth-floor apartment caught fire and two brave fire officers saved her life. At 11 pm, she suddenly smelt fire from the the kitchen. When she opened the door, everything was on fire. She closed the door quickly, but thick, black smoke started coming under it. The outside door was in the kitchen, so Helen desperately needed another way out. There was only the bedroom window and outside that there was just a narrow ledge, 15 centimetres wide – and 30 metres up. 'I was really scared, but there was nowhere else to go,' Helen said later. Smoke was coming into the bedroom fast. She climbed out and lowered her feet to the ledge. 'And then I shouted for help!' Luckily, some neighbours heard her and called the fire service. A fire engine, the police and an ambulance. Arrived. However, the ladder was ten metres short! There was only one thing to do. Officers Dave Yates and Ken Winterton rushed up to the tenth floor, smashed the door of the empty flat next to Helen's and raced to the window. Dave leaned out and Ken held him. Dave reached for Helen and shouted, 'Jump!' 'I tried,' she said later, 'but I couldn't. I was so scared!' Far below, people watched and waited. An explosion suddenly smashed Helen's window and flames shot out. Finally, she jumped and Dave caught her arms. she almost fell, but Ken managed to hold him. Slowly, they pulled Helen to safety. When Dave and Ken brought her down, everyone cheered wildly. Finally Helen was frightened and unhurt.

Answer the following questions:

1- What did Helen smell?
